

Through Far Lands I Travel
6/7/09

Through far lands I travel
Night and day
Bringing crystals and sound to the people,
I may visit in dreams
Or journey in session
Always within this divine meditation
Giving thanks and receiving none
But the reward of seeing inspiration
In the hearts and minds of the people,
I may sing with the Angels
And dance with the Shamans
Kneel with the Druids and bow with the Brahmins
For today is the day, and now is the now
When our spirits expand and our souls become open
To the far reaching stars and the crystalline hearts
That we bring through our birth
To this dear planet Earth
Through far lands I travel
Night and day
Spreading joy and gratitude to the people,
I may rewrite the script
Or play different parts
Always within this divine adaptation
